CU★PRESENTS is the home of performing arts at the University of Colorado Boulder.

The mission of the University of Colorado Boulder College of Music is to inspire artistry and discovery, together.

As we gather, we honor and acknowledge that the University of Colorado’s four campuses are on the traditional territories and ancestral homelands of the Cheyenne, Arapaho, Ute, Apache, Comanche, Kiowa, Lakota, Pueblo and Shoshone Nations. Further, we acknowledge the 48 contemporary tribal nations historically tied to the lands that comprise what is now called Colorado.

Acknowledging that we live in the homelands of Indigenous peoples recognizes the original stewards of these lands and their legacies. With this land acknowledgment, we celebrate the many contributions of Native peoples to the fields of medicine, mathematics, government and military service, arts, literature, engineering and more. We also recognize the sophisticated and intricate knowledge systems Indigenous peoples have developed in relationship to their lands.

We recognize and affirm the ties these nations have to their traditional homelands and the many Indigenous people who thrive in this place, alive and strong. We also acknowledge the painful history of ill treatment and forced removal that has had a profoundly negative impact on Native nations.

We respect the many diverse Indigenous peoples still connected to this land. We honor them and thank the Indigenous ancestors of this place. The University of Colorado pledges to provide educational opportunities for Native students, faculty and staff and advance our mission to understand the history and contemporary lives of Native peoples.

The Holiday Festival is a Boulder tradition that dates back decades, though it has been known by many names over the years. In the 1940s, its earliest archived performances were called The Festival of Christmas, and later it was simply known as The Festival. In the late 90s it evolved into the Holiday Festival our community knows and loves today, a beloved celebration of the entire winter season that draws thousands of families to Macky Auditorium each December.
“When I meet people in the community, often the first thing they say about the College of Music is how much they love the Holiday Festival. It’s truly a source of joy for so many,” says Dean Robert Shay. “Personally, I have always found it thrilling to sing Handel’s Hallelujah Chorus with over 2,000 other audience members.”

Producing Artistic Director and Director of Bands Donald McKinney cherishes the cross-generational love for the event: “Every year, we have numerous families with young children who attend our show. And every year a new young conductor is discovered at the Holiday Festival! I love turning around to see the joy and enthusiasm of a young child who loves the music and conducts along with our student performances.”

Of course this year, due to the COVID-19 restrictions in place for large gatherings, the festival cannot take place in Macky. There will be no 2,000-person sing-along from the stage to the rafters. No children conducting from the front row. But still, there will be a Holiday Festival. It will simply attach a new moniker to its title, as it has so many times before: virtual production.
“From the start of the pandemic, the College of Music was committed to creating a Holiday Festival that people could experience from the comfort of their home,” says McKinney.

Designing and producing the virtual event was a semester-long collaboration between McKinney, various College of Music departments, and CU Presents Assistant Marketing Director Daniel Leonard, who executive produced the video along with student Vanessa Cornejo. The end result is a program that will showcase some of the traditional Holiday Festival fare while intertwining new elements, such as original opening music by composition students Max Wolpert and Ben Morris.

McKinney’s hope is that the final effect will be a different—but equally merry—sense of good cheer. “We hope that everyone will share in our sense of community during the holiday season.”

Tickets to the virtual Holiday Festival start at $20. The production is available to stream Dec. 4-Jan. 4, 2021. Our take? Enjoy it by the fire with family and a cup of hot cocoa. It’s sure to leave you feeling festive. Happy holidays!

Texts and translations

Mata del Anima Sola

Mata del ánima sola, boquerón de banco largo ya podrás decir ahora aquí durmió canta claro.

Con el silbo y la picada de la brisa coleadora la tarde catira y mora entró al corralón callada.

La noche, yegua cansada, sobre los bancos tremola la crin y la negra cola y en su silencio se pasma tu corazón de fantasma.

Tree of the lonely soul, wide opening of the riverside———now you will be able to say: Here slept Cantaclaro.

With the whistle and the sting of the twisting wind, the dappled and violet dusk quietly entered the corral.

The night, tired mare, shakes her mane and black tail above the riverside; and, in its silence, your ghostly heart is filled with awe.

Text by Alberto Torrealba (1905-1971)
Music by Antonio Estévez (1916-1988)

Ogo ni fun Oluwa

Ogo ni fun Oluwa Oluwa Eyo Ejo Abi Jesu Kristi Irepo Epàtewö Alafia

Glory be unto the Lord! Lord Rejoice Dance Jesus Christ is born Unity Clap Peace
Deck the Halls

Deck the halls with boughs of holly,
Fa la la la la, la la la la.
Tis the season to be jolly,
Fa la la la la, la la la la.

Don we now our gay apparel,
Fa la la la la, la la la la.
Troll the ancient Yuletide carol.
Fa la la la la, la la la la.

See the blazing Yule before us,
Fa la la la la, la la la la.
Strike the harp and join the chorus,
Fa la la la la, la la la la.

Follow me in merry measure,
Fa la la la la, la la la la.
While I tell of Yuletide treasure,
Fa la la la la, la la la la.

Joy to the World

Joy to the world! The Lord is come
Let earth receive her King!
Let every heart prepare Him room

And heaven and nature sing
And heaven and nature sing
And heaven, and heaven and nature sing

He rules the world with truth and grace
And makes the nations prove
The glories of His righteousness

And wonders of His love
And wonders of His love
And wonders and wonders of His Love
Angels We Have Heard on High

Angels we have heard on high
Sweetly singing o’er the plains,
And the mountains in reply
Echoing their joyous strains.

Gloria, in excelsis Deo!
Gloria, in excelsis Deo!

Come to Bethlehem and see
Him Whose birth the angels sing;
Come, adore on bended knee,
Christ the Lord, the newborn King.

Gloria, in excelsis Deo!
Gloria, in excelsis Deo!
